

All Ready.

The new sch. Independence, Capt. Joseph V. Cusick, lies in the stream all ready for her maiden trip, salt fishing. She is one of the very finest as well as one of the prettiest vessels hailing from this port, and Capt. Cusick's host of friends wish him the best of luck.

Halibut Sales.

The fare of sch. Annie Greenlaw sold to the Atlantic Halibut Company and that of sch. Lelia E. Norwood to the New England Fish Company at 11 cents per pound for white and 7 1-2 cents for gray.

Mackerel Still in Good Receipt at New York.*SCHOOLS WELL BROKEN UP.*Netters Were Behind the Fish Last Night.

Our regular New York correspondent telegraphs us the following this forenoon: "The fish brought in at Fulton Market, New York, this morning, were taken about 30 miles south-east from Sandy Hook and are all seine fish except two trips.

"The seiners report the schools broken up and fish moving rapidly eastward. Still for the next two or three days there is a good chance for more arrivals here, though the possibilities are that the trips will be small by reason of the fact that the fish are much scattered.

"The netters appear to be on this side of the fish, therefore the receipts from them to-day have been light. They may, however, discover this and catch up with them to-night, but if not the netting fleet may be looked for east rather than here. The fish are moving freely at 11 and 7 cents and will clean up at that, with the possibilities of some orders remaining unfilled unless more fish arrive."

Our correspondent reports the following fares at New York today:

Seiners.

Gasoline auxiliary sch. Victor, Capt. John W. McFarland, 150 barrels fresh medium mackerel.

Gasoline auxiliary sch. Natalie B. Nickerson, Capt. Eben T. Lewis, 150 barrels fresh medium mackerel.

Sch. Mertis H. Perry, of Boston, 50 barrels fresh medium mackerel.

Sch. Nourmahal, Capt. Flar McKown, 50 barrels fresh medium mackerel.

Sch. George F. Edmunds, Capt. Joseph Graham, 60 barrels fresh medium mackerel.

Sch. Geneva Mertis, Capt. Alex. McCloud, 20 barrels fresh medium mackerel.

Sch. Olympia, Capt. Obediah Nickerson, 35 barrels fresh medium mackerel.

Sch. Monarch, Capt. Rufus McKay, 80 barrels fresh medium mackerel.

Sch. Lottie S. Morton, of New York, 150 barrels fresh medium mackerel.

Netters.

Sch. James A. Garfield, Capt. Jeremiah Warren, 65 barrels large fresh mackerel.

Sch. Mattie and Lena, 21 barrels large fresh mackerel.

The receipts of fresh mackerel thus far this season is even ahead of last year up to the present time.

Up to May 12, 1900, 67 vessels had been in with 150 fares aggregating 10,356 barrels.

Up to May 12, 1901, 126 vessels have been in with 189 fares aggregating 13,940 barrels.

Of these, 51 seiners have landed 94 fares aggregating 10,439 barrels and 75 netters have landed 95 fares aggregating 3,501 barrels.

Sch. Margaret Mather, Capt. Albert D. Mallock, is at Boston today from South with 12 barrels of fresh mackerel and 15 barrels of salt mackerel. She will fit for Cape Shore. Her fresh mackerel brought 7 3-4 cents apiece.

Capt. James McHenry of sch. Annie Greenlaw reports seeing several schools of what he and his crew took to be mackerel from Cape LaHave to Cape Sable, on the Cape Shore.

Last year the Cape Shore fleet numbered about a dozen sail and this season it will probably be even less, as most of the fleet will stay on the fish and follow them along from the southward.

Capt. John Anderson of sch. Norma reports seeing many flocks of sea geese, a sign of mackerel, on the Cape Shore.

A large school of mackerel is reported to have passed April 28 about 15 miles off Yarmouth Cape. This was probably a school of herring.
